

My way

Today I will tell you my story, the story of a piece of puzzle.

I'll start by talking about how I found my way in life. I won't bore you with long sentences. But I want to draw attention to the fact that what has helped me the most in this period of my training is literature.

From every fragment, from every character and author I learned divine gifts.

Some concrete examples from my life would be:

- the life and activity of the poet Ion Creangă, a symbol, we are very proud of in my country. He was a living example of the fact that if you fight for your dream, nothing is impossible.

To continue with another character very close to my soul is Matilda, the protagonist of the book of the same name written by Roald Dahl. Although she came from a mediocre family, this turned out to be a living miracle as well and she was endowed with many moral values.

And one of my favorite books is "I'm Malala", written by the book's protagonist. I have always been a support of women and I greatly admire this girl who had the courage to stand out and fight for what is right.

Each of us can be a role model and we can learn new things from the smallest object around us.

During the years I travelled so far I have been guided by some of the best teachers from my country.

From them I learned what freedom means to express yourself, to be able to look beyond the horizon, to be able to fly beyond the clouds. In this way I want to thank all those who supported me and I invite you to discover together the Romanian language and literature because, in my opinion, it's one of the most beautiful in this world.
